Will try to skim through this. I have morning meetings and a couple afternoon deadlines, before I am stuck in training over the next week and a half.

I know Tina has already signed the letter, but Angeles wants it reformatted to a shorter simpler version that she signs and the technical detail moved to an attached technical memo. I have separated the letter to respond to her request, the content of the letter remains the same, no details were deleted and only minor edits to reflect the changed format Let me know if you have any comments or edits. If the technical memo is ok, you can initial and send it back and I'll sign; and the letter can be routed to Angeles and Tina
