Subject: Congressional item 1.13.20

- On January 9, during a Water Resources Development Act hearing held by a subcommittee of the House Transportation & Infrastructure Committee, OR Congressman Peter DeFazio spoke of his concerns about the Pebble Mine: ". . . that the EIS was found by the Trump administration agencies to be totally lacking in terms of an environmental impact statement so I am hoping that and I understand that there has been some delay and there has been some reconsideration consultation going on?" The Corps' Chief of Engineers responded: ". . . we understand based on the magnitude of the comments and our due diligence to do this right we need at least 90 more days. So we have pushed one of those milestones back. . . ."
