Hi Lam. As of last week we were still organizing it assuming it will be on for September. However we are considering arrangements for remote participation as many of the organizers and invited speakers are not sure if their agencies/institutions will allow travel then.

I am told the paper is due out this Friday June 5th in Science.

Hi Mark,

Just curious, any idea if this conference will still be on or it's still too early to call. By the way, any update on your Cl-containing paper in Science?

Best,
Lam
