Subject: GM A/C Leakage Defect - next steps

All,

I have drafted a "one-pager" outlining the issue presented by the GM defect report on the defective A/C discharge line and what our recommendation and next steps are. Before we go any further with GM, I would appreciate if you could all look at this document and let me know if I have missed anything or if this does not correctly characterize what we want to do. I have already given Byron a brief overview of the issue and he has also briefly mentioned it Chris, so I'm sending this document to him for his review as well. Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)
