Yes, please draft a response with what we know so far and what we as an agency plan to do.

Thanks, Cristina

I have the Stack test report for B. Braun. The report had a greater than 99.9% control efficiency. PADEP NERO was planning an inspection but I don't know if that occurred. I do know that the EtO Commercial Sterilizer MACT will be revised (proposal is in OMB) and EPA plans to have webinars to the communities explaining the changes. We can draft something but we would not be able to speak to the cancer incidence since we don't have data.
