I haven't work on study quality tables in a long time. RDX might be most recent, but everything is a just a template, waiting to be changed. If I find something better I'll send it your way.

Subject: New template for study quality and study data tables

Glinda,

Surgery was rough but recouperating. Will be working from home, at least for part of the day. Told Sue Makris I would help out on the TCE dev tox epid studies while at AWL. She needs study quality and study summary/data tables for the epid studies in the TCE assessment and some new ones identified in a recent lit search update. I have an older study quality table completed for RDX and data tables for DEHP. I bet you have updated tables and ask f you would forward these. Thanks.

Regards,
Cheryl
