See attached aerials. This is still in Louisville District based on the ArcGis information Greg gave me. Basically, The owner of a campground within the past year has filled in wetlands contiguous with Blue Lake. The area in the red square on the left has happened this past year. The area in the red square on the right has happened over 1 year ago. I was at the site yesterday. There is definitely fill over muck. The wetland is forested and with standing water. Will call to discuss
