Margaret:

I just wanted to give you an update. We expect to have stack test results back in a few weeks.

Thanks.
Anne

Margaret:

Thank you for following up. Yes, we are still pursuing stack testing. We have picked a contractor and the testing should be happening soon. Once that is done, we will be reviewing the model parameters in light of the stack test results and will share that information with USEPA.

Let me know if you have any questions.
Thanks.

Anne,

Just checking in as it have been some time since we last communicated with email. Is stack testing still being pursued? Will the modeling parameter modifications be shared after the stack test? Again if you have any questions, please let me know.

Margaret:

We are currently working to get "apples to apples" bids for stack testing from potential vendors. We will keep you updated when we have identified a contractor and expect testing to happen.

Please let me know if you have any other questions.
Thank you.

Hi Anne,

Just checking in to see how the modeling is going, if a decision has been made regarding stack testing, or if you have any additional questions.

Thanks, Margaret

Margaret:

The source is product reactors controlled by scrubbers.

Thanks and have a good vacation.

Anne or John,

Could you provide more information about the emission source you will be testing? We haven't discussed this specifically but this will help in getting guidance on a methodology.

Hi Margaret

Per our call, attaching the reference document that shows the 0.005 ug/m3 inhalation unit risk concentration.
Just want to confirm this.

John

Anne,

Great. I have scheduled the following conference line for the call from 12:30-1 pm central time. If you could send any questions before the call we would appreciate it.

Conference number 312-353-1770, Conference Code Non-responsive

Thanks, Margaret

We can do 12:30pm. The call should not last more than a half an hour, I think.
Thanks.

How about 12 or 12:30 if you think the call might be short? As Phuong is not free before 11.

If this time works for both of you, I can set up a conference line unless you want to do it. Could you send us the questions ahead of time so if necessary we could prepare. We would like the call to be productive as possible.

Margaret:

Do you have time on Thursday to chat with me and John Iwanski, our consultant? We have a few more questions and a phone call is likely easiest. I'm traveling tomorrow, but Thursday is wide open.

Thanks.
