Tip or Complaint: Dander dust fills the air. The smell of what smells like a hog farm mixed with the sickening sweet smell of what might be hydrogen sulfide along with the dusty chicken smell is unbearable. Thousands of flies everywhere, all this combined makes for no outdoor living. Today while sleeping, I am working nightshift this week, I woke up to the hickman smell in my bedroom. Enough is enough, I was here first and Hickmans have ruined my life. Can EPA step in instead of handing down the problem to the state of Arizona? I have come to the conclusion that they rely on their BMP that simply does not work. How can you fix a flawed barn design that blows all the contaminants out the back door with these huge fans and say that they can continue doing this because they have a best management program. Their BMP just is not working and is making me sick.
