Subject: SDWA and the WV chemical spill

We're having a meeting with our states and WVDEP presented a summary of what happened with that chemical spill that impacted that public water supply. One question the states asked is what, if anything, EPA may be thinking about doing in response to that spill to bolster our authorities.

Have you folks heard anything from OGWDW regarding any possible amendments to the SDWA to give the Drinking Water Program more authorities over threats to water supply sources?

Thanks,

Rick
