SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

ACILITY DESCRIPTION AND OPERATIONS

The New Jersey Bell Co. located at 136 Magnolia Ave, Jersey City, N.J. with the EPA assigned ID number NJD980647044, is an administration building. No manufacturing operations are taking place on the site; and no haz. waste is generated in offices facilitated in this building.

The company acquired the EPA ID number for purpose of removal of lead batteries, which are used on site as back up source of power for office operations in case of commercial power failure. As per company letter dated 09/13/91, they decided that generator status is no longer needed at this type facility, since the batteries are now recycled under the provision of NJAC 7:26-8.2(a)15.

Physical inspection of the facility, performed on 10/31/91, revealed that there is no haz. waste in storage on site and all batteries (24 of them) are hooked up to the system.

The inspection of the facility revealed that all areas are maintained in
