Ok, good, so if we're lucky (and we could use some luck) it will be a brief meeting.

Anyway, it looks like it will be 7:00pm on the 28th in Linden.... Place to be announced.

The public notice/press release/mailings will go out on the 21st.

I don't expect much as there has been very little public interest throughout the project. I believe there were less than five people at the last public meeting.
Has a date time and place been set?
