Great. Thanks Katherine. We will just include the information for now. We don't have to make anything officially public until after the final TMDL is out and so by then, you will already have put it out for the public.

Hi Cindy,

I put a near-final copy of the State of the Watershed report into the dropbox folder (link below). We are fine with you using and including the data as well as a summary of our findings but we do ask that the actual report not be made public. We are planning a release in January of 2013 – let me know if this sounds good. And it is not completely finalized but very close – probably just some edits to the recommendations section. And I will get you some vineyard data and information shortly. Just checking that it's ok to share first.

Best, Katherine
