Subject: RE: Kentucky Derby

FYI, I'm assuming that the "tickets" are for attendance in a private suite or skybox. If that's the case, here's how to determine the fair market value:

gift of attendance in a skybox or private suite is determined by adding the market value of the most expensive publicly available ticket to the event to the market value of the food, parking and other tangible benefits provided in connection with the gift of attendance. Assume, for example, that an employee is offered free admission for two to a private suite at an arena to view a music concert. The most expensive ticket available to the public at retail for that event is $150. However, in addition to the value of entrance to the event, attendance in the private suite comes with food and beverages provided during the concert valued at $50 per person and a parking pass with a market value of $25. Thus, the total value of the gift to the employee is $425: $300 for the admission for two, plus $100 for the food and beverages for two, plus $25 for the parking pass.

If the ticket is for a publicly available seat, we'll look at the ticket price directly.

I hope this helps!

Hi there,
Unless the Administrator is given an official speech at the Derby, then I don't see how he and his wife can accept free attendance at the Derby. In 2007, the Office of Government Ethics issue Legal Advisory 07 x 14, which states, "OGE has received many questions from agency ethics officials and others concerning the application of the [widely attended gathering] exception to sporting events, such as … horse races …. OGE has concluded that such events typically do not qualify as WAGs." In order for them to attend, they will have to pay for their tickets and attend in personal capacity.

Dear Ms. Shaw

I understand from George Sugiyama that you are in charge of EPA's side of the joint Commerce/EPA implementation of the President's Memorandum on preconstruction permit streamlining. I am writing to see if you would meet with National Environmental Development Association's Clean Air Project (NEDA/CAP) on March 23rd (between 10-3) to discuss the project. I'm attaching a preliminary list of our issues with some discussion (4 pages).

NEDA/CAP represents major manufacturers from multiple industry sectors, and its principal focus over the last thirty years has been to streamline Clean Air Act preconstruction permitting, which is a major impediments to U.S. manufacturing and a challenge to maintaining U.S. competitiveness in world markets.

Please let me know if you can attend our meeting here in Washington on March 23 at Occidental Petroleum's offices at 1701 Penn. Ave., suite 800. (I'm copying Al Collins, Oxy's EHS Director on this note, since he is the host for our monthly meeting.) I expect 10-15 people will attend – mostly from out of town. NEDA/CAP's meetings are very informal, but company representatives (see letterhead attached) have incredible permit experience across their respective industries and can provide specifics that may be helpful to you.

Many thanks,

Morning Lincoln,

As an initial matter, a private dinner hosted by this individual would be a prohibited gift and the Administrator could attend only if he were to pay for his share.

Otherwise, OGC/Ethics would need much more information such as whether the individual in his various business entities employs federally registered lobbyists, the size of the event, the names of the invitees and the sectors they represent, etc. . . . even with all this information, it may come out that the Administrator would still have to pay for his meal if he wished to accept the dinner invitation.

Are you also running this through the scheduling office?

Please let me know how you'd like to proceed.

Thanks!

Hi there,
Well, the ACYPL is not itself a partisan organization, so I don't have to worry about the Hatch Act. It's also not a federally registered lobbyist, but I noticed that the reception will be held at DLA Piper, which is definitely a federally registered lobbyist. The invitation suggests that the Administrator will receive an award, so I would like to know what sort of award it is. Do you know? Also, is this really just a reception or is there a meal as well?

Evening Millan,

I just advised on the event (it's okay) in an earlier email. Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

EPA has authority to accept gifts of travel expenses from a non-federal source. Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

Let me know if this helps and if you'd like to talk more about this.

Jennie,

Please see the original message below. They have offered to pay for the Administrator's travel? May we allow them to do that as he will be giving the keynote speech on the 11th?

Thank you!

Millan, I saw Sydney's message. Do you want me to hold off on this? Another thing, I was looking at the rest of the email and it says that Heritage will pay for the Administrator's round trip air to and from Colorado. This should be cleared through Justina first as well, it's considered a gift of travel. Please advise.

Gail – I think it is safe for you to move forward with booking these flights and hotel accommodations.

For the Administrator:

Fly DCA – C. Springs: Morning of May 11

C. Springs to Tulsa – let's please first look to see if there is a late flight out that night. If not, then we will do an early morning flight to Tulsa on May 12.

For Advance (myself):

DCA – Colorado Springs: Evening of May 10

C. Springs – DCA: Either evening of May 11 or morning of May 12 depending on Administrator.

Dear Mr. Pruitt,

Thank you in advance for your participation as a speaker at the 2017 Resource Bank Meeting on May 10-12 in Colorado Springs.

Please see below for next steps to help facilitate your planning for Resource Bank 2017.

Speaker Registration
I have already registered you as one of our speakers. In order to complete your speaker profile, please feel free to send me your biography, photo, and any social media information you would like to share and I can take care of adding that as well.

If you have any staff who will be accompanying you to this event, please have them register here.

Session Details
Please note the confirmed details for the Robert H. Krieble Dinner on May 11 at 6:30 PM listed on the Resource Bank 2017 website.

Travel Arrangements
Heritage will pay for round-trip airfare for you to and from Colorado Springs.

- If you would like, please feel free to book your travel to Heritage's account through World Travel by calling 888-602-

6655; tell the agent you are traveling for Heritage's Resource Bank Meeting.

- If you wish to book your own travel, please forward your itinerary by April 14 and retain receipts for reimbursement after the event.

Please schedule your travel to ensure that you arrive no less than 2 hours prior to the start of your session.

Hotel Accommodations
Heritage will reserve your room at The Broadmoor and pay for one night of accommodations before or after your session. Please confirm that you only need the night of May 11 for hotel accommodations.

Thank you again for your contribution to the Resource Bank Meeting. If I can assist in any way, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Jessica Larsen

Hi Justina,

Here's a list of all of Lee's speaking engagements/events. I've included the information that I have in hand. Please feel free to give me a call to discuss and/or let me know where additional information/invitations is needed. I'm also including the conference booklet in case that is useful. Lastly, note that I've deleted the GE and HDR events that are listed in my original email from his calendar based on our conversation last night. We will politely decline on his behalf.

Thanks.

Hi Justina,

I hope all is well and you aren't too busy these days. I have made the switch over to the water program and am helping to prep Lee Forsgren for his trip to WEFTEC in early October. Lee will be attending the conference and speaking at a wide range of conferences sessions, but he has also received some invitations for side events, so I wanted to run those by you to get your read as to whether we could accept or we must decline. Please let me know if you need any additional information and I'm happy to talk through any of these, if that's helpful.

Event: Industrial Networking Reception
Organizer: WEFTEC (it's a conference sanctioned event)
Attendance: Attendance is open to all WEFTEC attendees, but an RSVP is required.
Role: Attendee
Invitation: There is no official invitation because the event appears in the program, but I am including the program here for awareness.
<< File: WEFTEC 17 Industrial Reception.pdf >>
Event: GE Power Reception
Organizer: GE
Attendance: Invite only
Role: Attendee
Invitation: I'm attaching the email invitation, but it doesn't provide much information at all. That being said, I have a feeling that I've is included above and attached below may be enough for you to make a determination. Please let me know if not, and I'll follow up for more info.
<< Message: Fwd: You're Invited! >>
Event: HDR Client Event
Organizer: HDR
Attendance: Invite only
Role: Attendee
Invitation: I'm attaching the invitation below.
<< Message: Fwd: Join HDR at WEFTEC 2017 >>

If others come across my desk, I will share them with you for a review. Also, please let me know if these should continue to come to you and/or if there's anyone else on your team we should include. I know you are busy these days.

Thanks!

GETTING APPROVAL TO ATTEND WEFTEC

WEF recognizes it is no easy task to secure approval for a training event. Here are several tips to guide you in justifying your request for approval to attend WEFTEC 2017. Find more at www.WEFTEC.org/Approval.

EMPLOYER APPROVAL TIPS

EDUCATION
WEFTEC offers the highest quality programming, accepting no more than 50% of submissions and focusing on the most relevant content. The knowledge and information you will gain at WEFTEC and bring back to your organization is the very best in the business.

EXHIBITION
The WEFTEC technical exhibition is the largest assembly of water, wastewater, and stormwater products and services in the world. Attendance gives you the best opportunity to form quality business relationships, and stay up to date on the sector's leading and emerging technologies.

INVESTMENT
Your organization is investing in you – provide details about what you will bring back from the event.

- What sessions will you attend and what immediate impact will they have on your work?
- What vendors will you visit on the exhibition floor and how will this help your organization?
- Which experts will you have access to and what knowledge will you bring back to share with your organization?

EDUCATIONAL CREDITS
With the huge variety of topic areas, WEFTEC is the most cost-effective way to earn educational credits this year. Earn up to 1.2 CEUs at workshops, 16.5 PDHs in technical sessions, and 8 contact hours per day for time spent visiting the exhibition.

MONEY-SAVING TIPS

REGISTRATION
Become a WEF member to save as much as $370 on your Full Conference registration when you register by the July 14th Best Rate deadline.

EXHIBITION
Visit the WEFTEC exhibition floor at no cost for WEF members and $50 for nonmembers if you simply register online by the Best Rate deadline.

TOURS AND EVENTS
Optional, excellent ways to learn more and maximize your time.

HOTEL

AIRPORT TRANSPORTATION
An airport shuttle is a great way to save over a taxi.

GROUND TRANSPORTATION
Stay inside the WEFTEC hotel block for complimentary shuttle bus access to and from McCormick Place.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEE SUPPORT

Rob McElroy, Partner at BlueWater Group, Inc., in conjunction with WEF's Technical Programs department, developed a series of forms and instructional information to assist employees with the attendance approval process. While designed for utilities and other government employees, anyone may find the forms useful. Find this invaluable resource at www.WEFTEC.org/Approval.

To streamline your mobile experience with WEF, we have updated our mobile app. Now called WEF Events, you have access to all WEF conferences in one application, including WEFTEC and Specialty Conferences. As new information becomes available, it will automatically update on your device. You no longer need to download an app for each event.

- Browse exhibitors and sponsors, mark your favorites, and reference the interactive exhibit hall floor plan to find them
- Add sessions from the technical program or committee meetings to your schedule and sync between multiple devices
- View abstracts of technical presentations
- Keep up with the industry news through WEF News
- Follow the social media buzz; even tweet from the app #WEFTEC17
- Stay up to date with real time alerts, network from the app, send direct messages to attendees, share your schedule, and more
- Browse local places, general conference information and much more

IT'S ONLY ONE STEP AWAY!

Scan the QR code or point your mobile browser to m.core-apps.com/wefevents to be automatically directed to the proper app version for your particular device. Once the WEF Events mobile application downloads, launch the app and choose WEFTEC 2017 from the show list.

If you already have the WEF Events mobile app, be sure to exit the last event app you were navigating by selecting the Exit to Show List icon from your current app. At the WEF Events List, choose WEFTEC 2017 to download and launch app.

The app requires Internet access to process updates. When updates are available, the sync arrows at the top of the dashboard screen turn red. For technical assistance, please feel free to contact support@core-apps.com.

HELPFUL SOFTWARE REQUIREMENT TIPS:

Simplicity.

We travel the country to hear from our customers. We've learned that simplicity makes a powerful impact throughout the plant.

It's why we've introduced:

- the first multi-rake screen without a lower sprocket
- the only Perforated Plate with a stationary screen
- the first Washer Compactor discharge of up to 40 feet in length

Duperon® products solve common industry issues with innovation and high-performance reliability. Each installation eliminates complicated mechanisms and maintenance.

That's simply powerful.

We're still listening. Visit us in booth 1042 at WEFTEC 2017 in Chicago.

innovation showcase

Innovation helps move business-as-usual thinking forward into something better — more cost-effective, more efficient,more user friendly. The WEFTEC Innovation Showcase puts the spotlight on water sector innovation and provides access to the leaders and the technologies making it all happen.

The Innovation Showcase embraces learning through exhibits, educational sessions, and networking events covering:

- Innovation trends in the industrial and municipal markets
- Financial innovation and investment opportunities
- Piloting and partnering with new technology companies
- Building the regulatory environment to support innovation
- Using data to underpin industrial and municipal system upgrades

FLM v. EPA, 1:18-cv-00929 (D.D.C.) EPA-HQ-2018-004426 and 2150 ED_002121A_00003439-00016

Providing a platform for water sector innovation is at the heart of WEF's mission. WEFTEC is the opportunity to showcase dynamic thinking, facilitate conversations that transform ideas into solutions, and make new connections to solve your operational challenges now.

6TH ANNUAL WEFTEC INNOVATION PAVILION

Booth 7739, Hall B | McCormick Place

WEF's Innovation Pavilion highlights a selection of the most promising technology businesses in the industry while championing an important dialogue about innovation in our industry. WEF and its Innovation Partners, BlueTech Research, and Imagine H_2O, create a unique program for entrepreneurs, investors, customers, and regulators.

PROGRAMMING

The Pavilion's theater hosts a series of educational sessions and conversations for utilities, investors, entrepreneurs, and technology providers. These interactive sessions allow attendees to engage prominent leaders in the water innovation community and discover cutting-edge solutions.

AWARD-WINNING WATER INNOVATIONS

The Pavilion features early and growth stage companies selected by BlueTech Research and Imagine H_2O. Companies range from early stage to investor-backed and work with high-profile customers in the industrial and municipal markets. Also highlighted are new technologies from more established companies, including the WEF Innovative Technology Award winners.

RECEPTIONS

Monday & Tuesday, October 2 & 3 | 5:00 pm – 6:00 pm

Join us at the Innovation Pavilion receptions to meet the innovators and expand your network of like-minded professionals looking to push the water industry forward.

BLUETECH BREAKFAST BRIEFING

Tuesday, October 3 | 7:30 am – 9:00 am

As part of the Annual Innovation Pavilion programming, BlueTech Research is delighted to once again host a breakfast briefing at WEFTEC. This briefing will be led by BlueTech Research CEO, Paul O'Callaghan and will also include input from BlueTech analysts and the Technology Assessment Group (TAG) experts including William Toffey, Judith Herschell, Wade Miller and Steve Gluck.

The breakfast briefing will cover BlueTech's latest in-depth research and will include reports such as Nanofiltration, Ballast Water, Ultrapure Water, Advanced Oxidation, Brine Management, China Power Sector and Stormwater IoT.

The event will be followed by a concierge tour of the WEFTEC Innovation Pavilion, in conjunction with our Innovation Partners – WEF and Imagine H_2O. The WEFTEC Innovation Pavilion highlights a selection of the most promising technology businesses in the industry while championing an important dialogue about innovation – it is a unique program for entrepreneurs, investors, customers, and regulators.

Places are limited for the breakfast briefing and are available on a first come first served basis. For more information please contact Sarah Condon – sarah.condon@bluetechresearch.com

STORMWATER CONGRESS

The Stormwater Congress Program allows stormwater professionals from around the world to gather in one location, at the largest water quality conference and exhibition in the world, to learn from the very best thought-leaders in the stormwater sector.

FLM v. EPA, 1:18-cv-00929 (D.D.C.) EPA-HQ-2018-004426 and 2150 ED_002121A_00003439-00018

The WEFTEC Stormwater Congress Program provides unmatched education programming and the chance to learn from the very best thought-leaders in the sector during 15 specifically tailored technical sessions and workshops.

The Congress encompasses all pressing aspects of stormwater management in two concurrent sessions, including:

- Climate Resilience and Flooding
- MS4 Strategies and Innovations
- BMP Research and Practices
- Real-Time Control for Stormwater
- Permeable Pavement Performance Monitoring
- Pre-Construction SWPPP Planning
- And everything in between

In addition, participants are invited to take advantage of the many other sessions in the Watershed, Collections, and Utility Management Focus Areas that may be of interest over the 3 days.

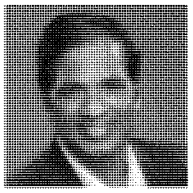
FEATURED SPEAKERS



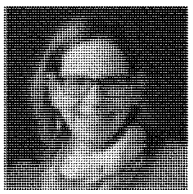
Krishna Pagilla

AAEES/AIDIS/WEF BREAKFAST

Monday, October 2 | 7:15 am – 8:30 am

Admission fee: $40.00

Join fellow researchers and scientists for this annual breakfast. Krishna Pagilla, PhD, PE, BCEE, University of Nevada, Reno, will discuss "Recycled Water Use for Potable and Non-Potable Purposes in both Water-Rich and Water-Deficit Regions".

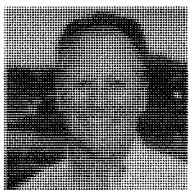


Nancy Love

SESSION 101: WEFTEC 2017 AEESP/WEF MASTER LECTURE

Monday, October 2 | 10:30 am – 12:00 pm

Each year WEF and AEESP select a world-renowned researcher for this prestigious lecture. This year, Nancy G. Love, PhD, PE, BCEE, University of Michigan, will deliver the 21st annual lecture. This lecture is the technical keynote of WEFTEC and is accessible to all exhibitors, full conference, and Monday daily registrants.



Bill Cooper

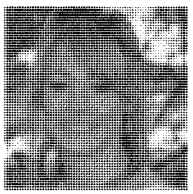
AEESP/WEF SCIENTISTS' LUNCHEON

Monday, October 2 | 12:00 pm – 1:30 pm

Admission fee: $40.00

Celebrating leading academics and researchers, and the important role that they play in advancing the science and technology of environmental protection, this year's AEESP/WEF Scientists' Luncheon features keynote speaker, Bill Cooper, Professor in the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering at the University of California, Irvine. Just prior to WEFTEC, Bill will be completing a four-year stint at the National Science Foundation. Register for this luncheon and network with fellow engineers and scientists while listening to the insights Bill has gleaned from his fascinating career.

Produced by the Water Environment Federation (WEF) in collaboration with the Association of Environmental Engineering and Science Professors (AEESP).



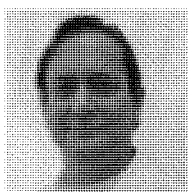
Christine Zimmer

STORMWATER CONGRESS LUNCHEON

Monday, October 2 | 12:00 pm – 1:15 pm

Admission fee: $40.00

Stormwater professionals face many of the same challenges as other water professionals, but also some unique to stormwater. This luncheon, featuring Christine Zimmer, Senior Manager of Water and Climate Change Science for Credit Valley Conservation (CVC), in Mississauga, Ontario, celebrates that interesting combination of overlap and uniqueness, and is your first chance to make new connections or renew acquaintances at WEFTEC. The lunch includes awards, networking time, and a keynote presentation.



George Hawkins

COLLECTION SYSTEMS LUNCHEON

Tuesday, October 3 | 12:00 pm – 1:30 pm

Admission fee: $40.00

Celebrate the work of collection systems professionals! Join us at the WEFTEC 2017 Collection Systems Luncheon, featuring George Hawkins, CEO and General Manager of DC Water.

MEMBER BENEFITS AT WEFTEC

mix with members | Exclusively for WEF Members, WEFTEC Exhibitors, and Advertisers

Sunday, October 1 | 5:00 pm – 6:30 pm

Enjoy cocktails and conversation with fellow WEF Members and WEFTEC Exhibitors in an atmosphere designed to help you achieve success by association. Invitations will be sent to WEF Members registered for WEFTEC 2017, as well as exhibiting companies' key contacts, later this summer.

the huddle room | Exclusively for WEF Members and WEFTEC Exhibitors

Monday – Wednesday, October 2– 4, 9:00 am – 4:30 pm

The Huddle Rooms are semi-private meeting spaces available to WEF Members and WEFTEC Exhibitors.

- Available by appointment only, on a first-come, first-served basis
- Two convenient locations in Hall A and Hall B
- No additional fees required
- 2-hour limit per reservation
- Includes flat-screen monitor for presentations (computer equipment not provided)
- Reservations and room specifications will be available online June 6 at www.weftec.org/mtgspacereq

MEMBERS ONLY HOSPITALITY LOUNGE

The Member Lounge is an exclusive benefit for WEF members at WEFTEC, featuring complimentary light refreshments, mobile device charging outlets, and comfortable seating. Stop by to take a quick break from your hectic WEFTEC schedule!

WEFTEC REGISTRATION SAVINGS

WEF Members save as much as $370 on Full Conference registration through the Best Rate Deadline, July 14.

EDUCATION AND TRAINING CREDITS

WORKSHOPS

WEF offers Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for full participation in workshops, which are held as full and half-day sessions in a classroom setting conducted by industry-leading professionals. One CEU is the equivalent to 10 hours of training or formal instruction. These are distributed for structured, relevant professional training above and beyond that of initial certification or employment in a particular field. See the WEFTEC 2017 Workshops At a Glance on page 25.

TECHNICAL SESSIONS

WEF offers Professional Development Hours (PDHs) for participation in technical sessions. Because technical sessions cover diverse topics ranging from the fundamentals to research, there is value for every attendee. A PDH is typically defined as 1 hour that is spent engaged in an activity that contributes to the advancement or enhancement of professional skills or scientific knowledge of a professional engineer or operator. An overview of WEFTEC 2017 technical sessions can be found on pages 27 – 31.

EXHIBITION, FACILITY TOURS, AND MOBILE SESSIONS

Contact hours are given for time spent visiting the exhibition and participating in facility tours. The exhibition provides the opportunity to see the newest developments in water and wastewater technology and get firsthand demonstrations from the experts. A contact hour is defined as 1 hour spent engaged in an activity that contributes to the professional skills of the participant. A list of companies exhibiting at WEFTEC 2017 begins on page 48. For WEFTEC 2017 facility tours, turn to page 37.

HOW DOES THIS PERTAIN TO ME?

Recently there is an increased focus on continuing education programs for licensed professionals. Educational events, such as WEFTEC, further your education, provide opportunities to get involved and gain knowledge of technical advances in your field, and in many cases are required in order for you to renew licenses or certifications.

HOW MANY EDUCATIONAL CREDITS CAN I EARN AT WEFTEC?

At WEFTEC 2017 you can earn up to 1.2 Continuing Education Units (CEUs) at workshops, 16.5 Professional Development Hours (PDHs) at technical sessions, and up to 8 general contact hours per day for time spent visiting the exhibition. Actual credits earned are dependent on what you choose to attend.

WHAT DO I NEED TO KNOW?

WEF calculates educational credits following a standardized method that is widely accepted by many certification and licensing agencies. It is important to note that most states differ in the types and/or numbers of credits they will approve for educational events. Because of this, participants are responsible for exploring their state requirements and for ensuring that WEFTEC credits are accepted. WEF applies for pre-approval in most states, so please visit www.WEFTEC.org for an updated listing of state approvals. WEF expects to receive approval from 49 states for WEFTEC 2017. Please remember that WEF provides documentation to attendees; however, most states require the individual licensee to report their continuing education credits.

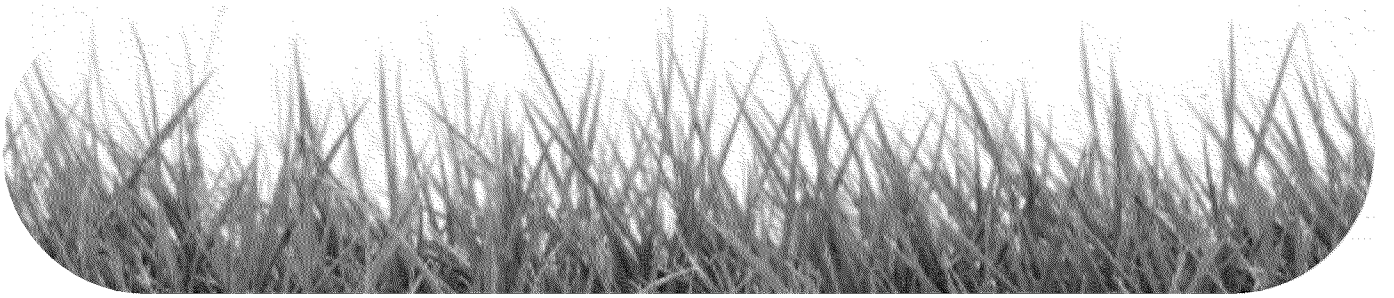
COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECT



Saturday, September 30 | 9:00 am – 4:00 pm
Transportation provided. Buses depart from the Hilton Chicago at 8:30 am.

The 10th Annual WEF Community Service Project, organized by the WEF Students and Young Professionals Committee (SYPC), offers WEFTEC attendees the opportunity to give back to our host city. This year's project, to be held at Manierre Elementary School, will include construction of bioswales and an outdoor classroom. The service project will not only leave a positive impact on the environment, but will also provide community education on water, the environment, and green infrastructure.

Registration for the service project is free and open to all WEFTEC attendees and their guests. Volunteers will receive transportation to and from the site, a t-shirt, lunch, and WEF Community Service Project ribbon for their WEFTEC badge. Service project volunteers will also leave a lasting mark on the water environment in Chicago.

As part of WEF's mission to increase awareness on water-related subjects, the SYPC will also be organizing a Water Palooza event on Friday, September 29, at a local elementary school. This event brings together water-conscious organizations and companies to educate school-age children in the community about the value of water through hands-on and demonstrative activities.

More information on the SYPC events can be found online at www.weftec.org/syp.

Join WEF in committing to civic outreach and sustainability by participating in the 10th Annual WEF Community Service Project!

Funding for the service project is provided entirely by sponsorships and donations – both monetary and material donations are welcomed. Please contact WEF Staff, Caroline Pakenham at 703-684-2400 x7220 to lend your support.

wef | Stormwater Institute

Thank you to these founding members for taking a leadership role in developing stormwater solutions for the Stormwater Institute.

With the support of dedicated industry leaders, the Water Environment Federation (WEF) has the stormwater sector covered through access to stormwater news, education, and training opportunities, as well as policy support and advocacy. Building on these efforts, the WEF Stormwater Institute fills the vacuum of national stormwater leadership and advances solutions to pressing needs in a water sector poised for major growth.

WEFTEC continues to grow in international scope, attracting an ever-increasing number of exhibitors and visitors from every region of the world, and the Global Center provides the services to meet their unique meeting needs.

GLOBAL CENTER SERVICES

The Global Center at WEFTEC is full of resources committed to matching international trade delegates and U.S. exhibitors with an eye on the worldwide market. Make important contacts and gain additional knowledge by interacting with the leading manufacturers and representatives in the water and wastewater profession.

Global Center – the hub of global business programming, networking, and opportunities, offering:

- Multi-language translation
- Presentations of global interest
- Trade delegate product interest information, lists of exhibiting companies wanting to do business in specific areas of the world and rosters of WEFTEC registrants sorted by state/province and countries
- International reception (sponsored by Greeley and Hansen)

TRADE DELEGATIONS/INTERNATIONAL BUYER PROGRAM

WEFTEC 2017 is the only water show selected to be a part of the U.S. Commercial Service International Buyer Program!

WEF's Trade Delegation Program, designed to increase the number of international buyers who visit WEFTEC, offers the opportunity for delegates to network with others in the water industry from the U.S. and all over the globe to establish business contacts, create partnerships, and discuss the latest technologies and solutions available. U.S. trade agencies, consulates, embassies, and independent delegation organizers work with WEF staff to coordinate meetings for international delegates attending WEFTEC who are interested in gaining greater access to international markets.

WEFTEC 2016 attracted 2,757 international attendees from 80 countries. Twenty-eight trade delegations actively engaged with U.S. trade agencies, foreign trade groups, exhibitors, and fellow attendees to explore new markets and establish business contacts.

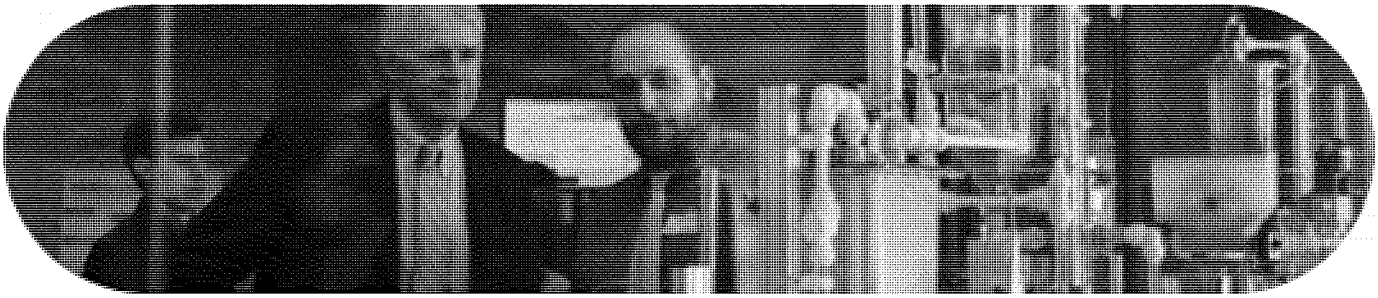
FEATURED AFFILIATE EVENT



VISIT MILWAUKEE'S WATER TECH HUB

Thursday, October 5 | 7:00 am – 7:00 pm
Admission fee: $60.00

Organized and hosted by

THE WATER COUNCIL

Transportation and lunch are included in the cost of admission. Board bus at the Hilton Chicago at 7:00 am; bus departs promptly at 7:30 am. Anticipate 4.5 hours touring sites in Milwaukee. Bus will arrive back at the Hilton Chicago by 7:00 pm.

Visit www.weftec.org/watercounciltour to register online. Registration closes September 15th.

Wisconsin has made the most of its unique geography to build core industry strengths that draw upon abundant fresh water and the region's history in brewing beer. The Water Council invites WEFTEC attendees to visit key industry, academia, pilot, and accelerator sites of Milwaukee's World Water Hub, including the Global Water Center, School of Freshwater Sciences, Zurn Industries, and Reed Street Yard's Global Water Technology Park.

WHY VISIT MILWAUKEE?

With more than 200 water technology businesses in the region, as well as academic programs and economic development organizations dedicated to the advancement of freshwater technologies, Milwaukee provides a one-of-a-kind, collaborative ecosystem for water organizations of all sizes.

Founded in 2009, The Water Council, headquartered in Milwaukee, leverages Wisconsin's unique water technology expertise to both promote industry development within the state and to advance water sustainability best practices worldwide. The organization purposefully built a membership base with a healthy representation from industry, academic, utility, and private sector leaders. This coalition has helped guide The Water Council in its pursuit of economic, talent, and research advancement within the industry. With initiatives that connect cutting-edge water technology research with one another, with entrepreneurs and talent that can help bring their discoveries to market, and with established companies that need the latest technologies being developed, Wisconsin has received widespread recognition for its successful water technology industry cluster development strategy.

OPERATIONS
CHALLENGE™

Monday, October 2 11:00 am – 4:30 pm
Tuesday, October 3 9:00 am – 4:30 pm
Booth 7007, Hall B

Wastewater's elite specialists can be seen at the 30th Annual Operations Challenge, as wastewater collection and treatment operators compete in a series of tests demonstrating the best combination of precision, speed, and safety. Each team is sponsored by a WEF Member Association or recognized Operator Association. The laboratory event kicks off at 11:00 am on Monday, and the remaining collections, safety, and Godwin maintenance events follow, beginning at 9:00 am on Tuesday. The competition is followed by an awards reception from 6:00 pm to 8:00 pm at the Hilton Chicago. Check out www.WEFTEC.org/OpsChallenge for more details.

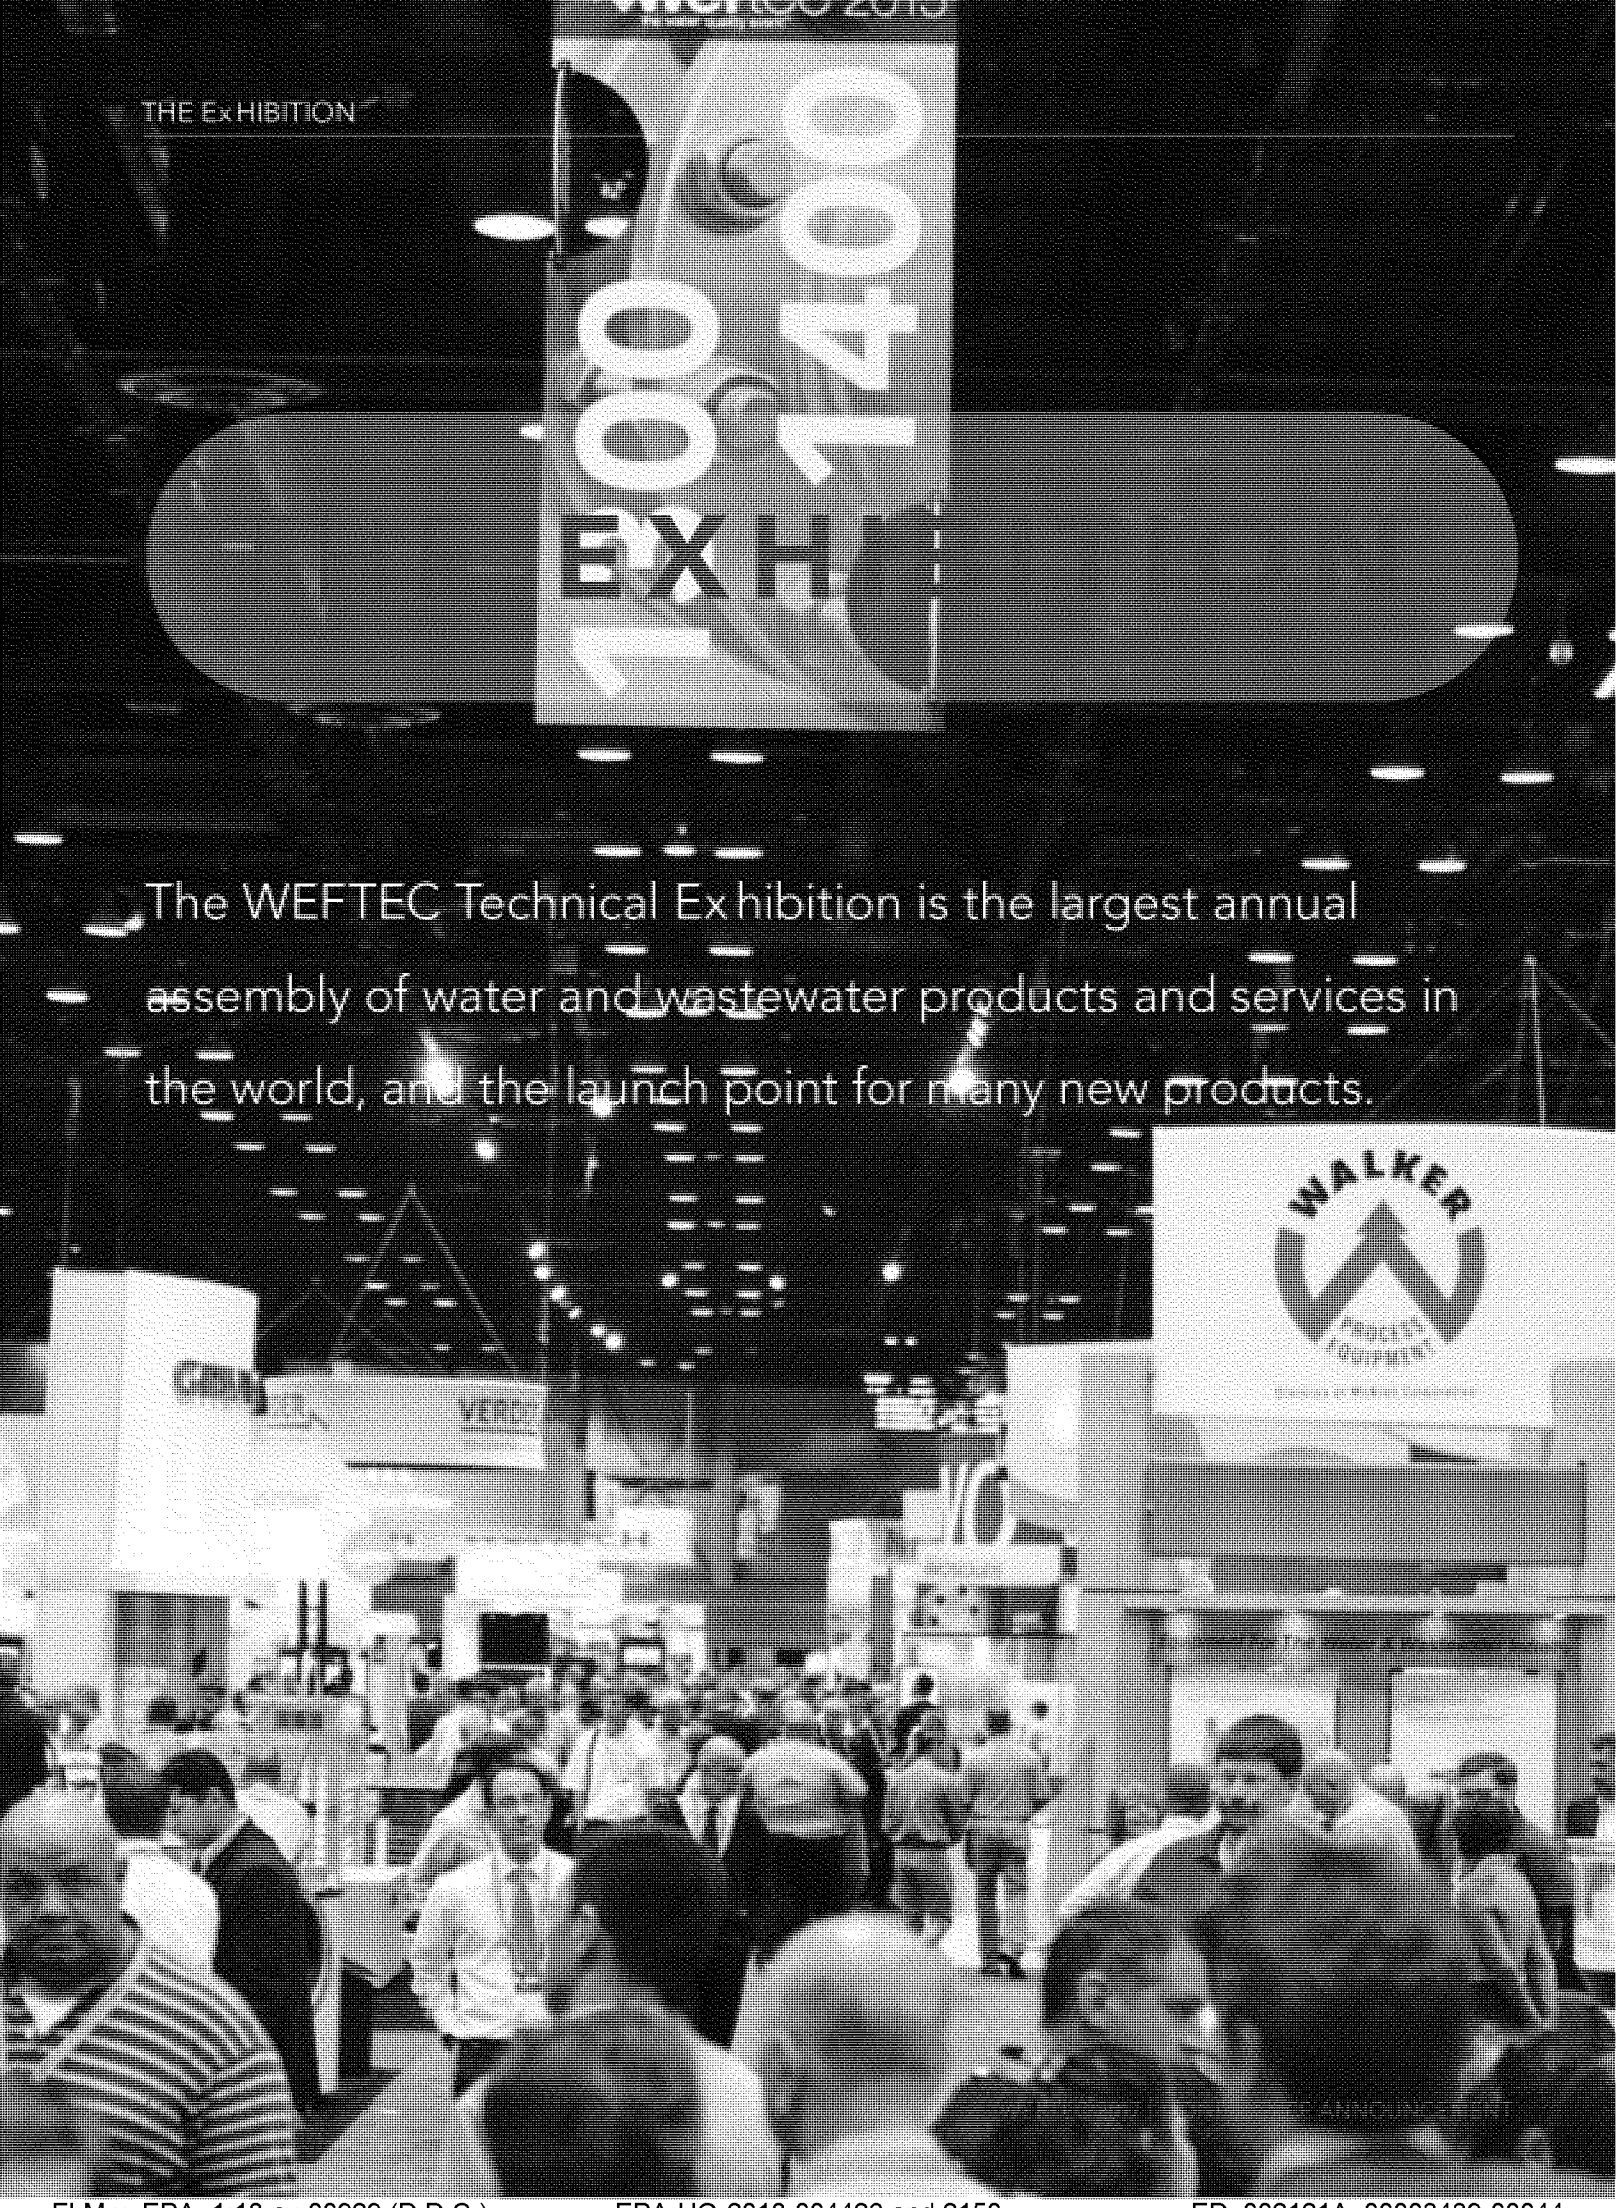
Special WEFTEC 2017 Rates for Utility Partnership Program Participants

Again this year, WEF is extending reduced full-conference registration rates to those who work for a utility or municipality, as our thanks for your contribution to the industry. As a Utility Partnership Program (UPP) participant, you are eligible to submit a WEFTEC 2017 Group Registration for your staff members. For more information visit www.weftec.org/UPP, or contact WEF's UPP Program Manager at upp@wef.org or 1.703.684.2400 ext. 7750.

The WEFTEC Technical Exhibition is the largest annual assembly of water and wastewater products and services in the world, and the launch point for many new products.



EXPERIENCE THE NEWEST AND BEST in the industry and make extraordinary connections with the people and products. Visit the exhibition to gain unique insights and education, form quality business relationships, and stay up to date on technology and services.

GET HANDS-ON with the latest water quality advances and developments through products and demonstrations from more than 1,000 exhibiting companies. Talk to the most knowledgeable manufacturers, consultants, and contractors in the water and wastewater industry to solve the challenges that are keeping you up at night.

EXPAND YOUR EXPERIENCE by taking advantage of additional exhibit hall features: targeted mobile sessions, new special Technical Session and technical programming in the Innovation and Stormwater Pavilion theaters.

WEFTEC is recognized as part of the Trade Show News Network Top 250 and the Trade Show Executive Gold 100 largest trade shows in exhibit size and attendance.

Conference registration is required to visit exhibitors and access educational sessions occurring within the exhibit halls. See fees on page 64.

Hi Ladies, wanted to bring this event to your attention. I found out today that this trip will be happening next week and as you can see they would like to comp the administrator and the two other rooms would be at their rate of $395.00 per night plus taxes. When I originally called this hotel the rates were $1500.00 per night plus taxes so we've got a significant discount. BTW, NAM stands for the National Association of Manufacturers. I am bringing this to your attention because of the gift of room and taxes, please advise.

I also, did a cost comparison from DC to Scottsdale vs. Tulsa to Scottsdale and it's the same as government rate from DC one way. I had advised Michele that he would have to pay the difference if the cost was higher. The agenda is attached as well, thank you!

Gail, thank you for your call today. Please find attached an agenda for the meeting for your use. You will note we have Administrator Pruitt on Monday at 3:15 pm. Hotel room information is listed below and the room rate is $395.00 per night. We have a dinner that Monday evening and welcome the administrator's attendance should he be available. Cost of the dinner is $150.00 per person. Thanks again and please let me know if you need anything additional, happy to help!

Subject: response to your email

Hi Ryan (you are so polite in your messages. It's quite lovely) –

Let's see (in reverse order):

- Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

- National Association of Manufacturers, board meeting, Scottsdale, AZ (March 6-7) and CERA Week, Houston, TX (March 9)
  The Administrator will be speaking in his official capacity, so subordinates can assist him with logistics, writing the speeches, etc. These are official trips, and I expect that Gail Davis (the Administrator's travel preparer) will make the travel arrangements.

Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process

Turning to the two upcoming events, here's my quick assessment (without yet seeing the travel itinerary):

- Neither the NAM or IHS Markit (the sponsor of CERA Week) is itself a federally registered lobbyist, so we don't have to worry about the lobbying gift ban.
- If he's speaking, then he can attend on the day that he is speaking and not worry about a gift of free attendance if there is usually a registration fee for attendees. He can attend any of the events offered to all participants that day, including any meals. But something special, like a speakers' only dinner or VIP reception, will require an additional ethics review. Also, if he is going to be attending on days other than the day he's speaking, then we have to figure out whether and how to accept any waived conference fee.
- If a non-federal entity is paying for any travel, including pick-up at the airport, for example, then those are gifts to be reviewed by OGC/Ethics first.

- Republican Attorneys General Association dinner – this event does raise Hatch Act issues (because the sponsor is definitely partisan). So Mr. Pruitt may attend, of course, but he can't accept assistance from subordinates other than with the bare logisitical services. He cannot be identified solely as the EPA Administrator nor honored for that position. Instead, RAGA may honor him for his previous service as the AG and to RAGA over the years. I can work with Gail Davis (the Administrator's travel preparer) to be sure that RAGA reimburses EPA for the cost of the travel (which will be very minimal since the event is in DC). Attached is a reminder about political events and the ground rules that can be shared with RAGA, either by you or me. I will need to know whom I can contact at RAGA in order to work out the billing.

Hope this helps,
Justina

Thank you for this and understood.

I wanted to make you aware that the Administrator would like to attend the Republican Attorneys General Association dinner on Sunday night. Part of the program is honoring the Administrator and new Alabama Senator Luther Strange for their AG work and new roles in the EPA and US Senate. This event is in DC.

He plans to speak to the National Association of Manufacturers at their periodic board meeting in Scottsdale, Arizona March 6-7.

He plans to speak at CERA Week in Houston March 9.

What information do you need in order to evaluate these events.

Also, were you could to provide a memo on CPAC or did the previous email suffice?

Thank you.

Subject: uh oh, I gave Ryan and the Administrator bad advice!

Hi Michelle,

I am writing to you so that you can please alert Ryan and the Administrator to the fact that I gave them incorrect Hatch Act advice. Mr. Pruitt will be speaking at CPAC on Saturday, and I had mistakenly determined that it is a political event. Earlier today, I confirmed with the Office of Special Counsel (the independent federal agency that interprets and enforces the Hatch Act) that they do not consider CPAC to be partisan. So it will be okay for the Administrator to attend the event in his official capacity, to be introduced as the EPA Administrator, and to allow subordinates to assist him with the event and in writing his speech for the event. I will be sure that the travel preparer realizes that this event is official, not political, and that EPA dollars can be spent in connection with the event.

I am very sorry for any inconvenience I have undoubtedly caused, but you know, it is easier to open the faucet from a dribble than to try to stop a gusher.

Cheers,
Justina

Thank you in advance for your participation as a speaker at the 2017 Resource Bank Meeting on May 10-12 in Colorado Springs.

Please see below for next steps to help facilitate your planning for Resource Bank 2017.

Speaker Registration
I have already registered you as one of our speakers. In order to complete your speaker profile, please feel free to send me your biography, photo, and any social media information you would like to share and I can take care of adding that as well.

If you have any staff who will be accompanying you to this event, please have them register here.

Session Details
Please note the confirmed details for the Robert H. Krieble Dinner on May 11 at 6:30 PM listed on the Resource Bank 2017 website.

Travel Arrangements
Heritage will pay for round-trip airfare for you to and from Colorado Springs.

- If you would like, please feel free to book your travel to Heritage's account through World Travel by calling 888-602-6655; tell the agent you are traveling for Heritage's Resource Bank Meeting.

- If you wish to book your own travel, please forward your itinerary by April 14 and retain receipts for reimbursement after the event.

Please schedule your travel to ensure that you arrive no less than 2 hours prior to the start of your session.

Hotel Accommodations

Heritage will reserve your room at The Broadmoor and pay for one night of accommodations before or after your session. Please confirm that you only need the night of May 11 for hotel accommodations.

Thank you again for your contribution to the Resource Bank Meeting. If I can assist in any way, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Jessica Larsen

1) The event is called the ACYPL Honors Evening but the award itself doesn't have a name. In the last 5 years, it has been a globe engraved with the Honoree's name and the year that looks like the attached photo. If that's a problem, we don't have to do awards

2) We have been doing the Honors Evening since 1999. We have traditionally honored ACYPL Congressional alumni or friends, but that's only because we didn't have an alum in a Cabinet level position before. The list of past honorees is attached.

3) We will send out the attached invite (with his line changed to The Honorable Scott Pruitt (invited)) and will also be sharing it on our website under events http://acypl.org/events/ and in emails to our alumni network

4) Yes, this is an fundraiser for ACYPL, which is a nonpartisan, non-profit 501(c)3 organization

And if you could let me know when his participation is approved, then we will remove invited from the invitation.

Hi Sydney,
I'm sorry that it appears this particular request has been a struggle. Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy

Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy

Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy With respect to this particular invitation, I can't see what award ACYPL wants to give to the Administrator, but I don't see any reason offhand that he would be precluded from accepting it. ACYPL is a nonpartisan group that works in concert with the State Dept exchange programs, as a matter of fact. So they can list him with reference to his official title or by "the Honorable" if they want. I'll add this to the list to talk to Jennie about tomorrow, and if you hear any screaming, it's because I missed something and should have known better.

Thanks Sydney, I appreciate your efforts. Do you any sense of how we can list him on the invitation, assuming everything goes through? We had asked you before if "The Honorable" was appropriate, and I wanted to double check on that.

Additionally, would we be allowed to send out the invitation with him listed as "invited" in the interim? I am just getting slightly anxious because we are about 3 months out and I would like to promote it to our alumni network.

Thanks again!

Hi Sarah,

Ex. 5 - Deliberative Process For example, as a federal employee, Mr. Pruitt cannot ever engage in any fundraising for any political party or group, which includes how the organization refers to him in its publicity material if indeed he agrees to do this event. In addition, there are restrictions with regard to whether they can include his EPA title and position in connection with partisan political activity, and the organization will have to pay for his travel expenses.

The theme for the weekend is "Celebrate Oklahoma".

The Republican Party is proud to have voted for the Republican nominee for President for the 4th consecutive election which led to Donald J. Trump becoming the 45th President of the United States. We celebrate our 94% win record on the ballot in 2016 where the state democrats did not win a single race on the ballot.

But, the greatest celebration of all is our own Scott Pruitt and we would love to honor him for his achievements!

We are not only celebrating political victories, but we will have a special program on Saturday highlighting the Governor's Oklahoma Fosters Program asking our delegates to become more involved in the foster care program.

The audience will consist of approximately 500 OKGOP supporters and donors.

Press attendance will be subject to your office's preference.

I look forward to hearing from your office on Admin. Pruitt's availability.

Hi Sydney,
I'm sorry that it appears this particular request has been a struggle. Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy

Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy

Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy With respect to this particular invitation, I can't see what award ACYPL wants to give to the Administrator, but I don't see any reason offhand that he would be precluded from accepting it. ACYPL is a nonpartisan group that works in concert with the State Dept exchange programs, as a matter of fact. So they can list him with reference to his official title or by "the Honorable" if they want. I'll add this to the list to talk to Jennie about tomorrow, and if you hear any screaming, it's because I missed something and should have known better.

Thanks Sydney, I appreciate your efforts. Do you any sense of how we can list him on the invitation, assuming everything goes through? We had asked you before if "The Honorable" was appropriate, and I wanted to double check on that.

Additionally, would we be allowed to send out the invitation with him listed as "invited" in the interim? I am just getting slightly anxious because we are about 3 months out and I would like to promote it to our alumni network.

Thanks again!

Subject: upcoming invitation

Hi there,
It was a pleasure meeting both of you earlier today! In addition to introducing you both to your federal ethics obligations, we discussed the fact that political appointees like the Administrator are subject to Executive Order 13,770 that prohibits them from accepting any gift from a federally registered lobbyist. While there are a few exceptions, he still can't accept an award from a lobbyist. I've attached the executive order here in case you want to see it.

We talked about the attached invitation from the National Stripper Well Association (NSWA) for next week. They have invited the Administrator to attend their annual gala/meeting and want to present an award (the Industry Leader Award) to him. Unfortunately, the NSWA is a federally registered lobbyist, so the Administrator is prohibited by Section 5 of the ethics pledge he signed (pursuant to the Executive Order) from accepting this award. Since the event is next week, telling them now may be upsetting, so let me know if there is something OGC/Ethics can do to help ease the pain. Maybe if the presentation item is just a "thing" with no other intrinsic value (like a certificate or a plaque, but not an ashtray or coffee table book), we can allow him to at least bring it back to us. What's tricky there is that he can't, under the pledge, accept the honor from the lobbyist, but he could accept the 'presentation item' since it has no value. It may be that the better course of action is to tell the NSWA up front now that he can't accept the Industry Leader Award.

What he can do is to give a speech at their event and, because he is speaking, he can accept free attendance on the day that he is speaking, including attending the happy hour and energy gala that is available to all attendees, any meals that are offered to all attendees, and any materials or swag that is offered to all attendees. See 5 CFR 2635.203(b)(8) of the recently effective new gift rules. Under this exclusion, Millan may also attend the event and eat the meals because she is staffing the Administrator who is speaking at the event. The protective detail may also attend, but I hear that they don't usually eat meals because, well, they're supposed to be protecting him.

I noticed that there is a board of directors meeting on 3/23, so if he is invited to attend that, we need to figure out if there will be any gift associated with his attendance. It doesn't look like there will be a meal, though, so if he's invited to attend the board of directors meeting at 4 pm, then it appears to me that he can do that. But if they give him a gift of some sort, then he may not be able to accept it because NSWA is a federally registered lobbyist. I can't apply the exclusion that allows the Administrator to go to the evening reception and gala because the board meeting is not available to all participants of the conference.

I'm copying Gail Davis on this note so that she knows not to include the dinner on 3/23 in the Administrator's travel voucher (since he's getting it as a gift) and also copying Jennie Keith of my group because she is the person who will be reviewing the bulk of the invitations. When she returns to the office next week (she's been on vacation), she'll be sure to come by to meet you both.

Best,
Justina

No, this is not consistent with ethics rules.

He may only attend the event and cannot raise money for the party nor can invitations for the event include solicitations for money. I've cc'd EPA's senior ethics counsel who can discuss what can appear but the Party must withdraw publicly the previous information and invitations.

1) The Administrator cannot, in his official capacity, attend the event. He can go in his personal capacity, as E. Scott Pruitt, former AG of Oklahoma, but not as the EPA Administrator. The campaign cannot refer to him by his EPA title (though they can call him the Honorable Scott Pruitt), and they can't use his name in connection with any fundraising or promotion.
2) EPA has to review the flyers.
3) He can speak about the candidate and urge support, but he absolutely cannot ask people to give money to the campaign.
4) The security detail can still go with him (they protect him 24/7, no matter what), but EPA cannot pay for the Administrator's travel expenses. Instead, the campaign must pay which I appreciate the party offering to do prior to the invitation being issued.

I'm available at Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy and Justina will be available tomorrow to square this away.

HOW TO REVIEW POLITICAL INVITATIONS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE HATCH ACT

The Hatch Act, 5 USC §§ 7321-7326, regulates the political activities of federal employees in the Executive Branch of the Federal government. "Political activity" is defined as an activity directed toward the success or failure of a political party, candidate for partisan political office, or partisan political group. Under the Hatch Act, most employees cannot participate in partisan political activity while on government time and in government facilities. However, this rule is different for PAS employees. This guidance will help you to know what the PAS employees can and cannot do.

Who is a PAS employee?

EPA has 14 PAS employees, who are Presidential Appointees confirmed by the Senate. They are the Administrator, the Deputy Administrator, the General Counsel, the Inspector General, the Chief Financial Officer, and the nine Assistant Administrators.

What are all employees prohibited from doing under the Hatch Act?

There are several things that no employee, including PASers, should do:

(1) Don't use your official authority or influence to interfere with or affect an election. Don't use your official title while participating in political activity and don't use your authority to coerce anyone to participate in political activity. Importantly, you can't solicit, accept or receive uncompensated volunteer services from any subordinate for any political purpose;

(2) Don't fundraise, even in your private capacity. You can't even let your name be used as the host of fundraiser. You can't solicit political contributions in a speech or address at a fundraiser, and you can't let your official title be used in connection with a fundraiser. You also can't solicit, accept or receive volunteer services from an EPA subordinate;

(3) Don't run for partisan public office (without first talking to your ethics official and telling us where you live. There are a few exceptions for certain localities); and

(4) Don't solicit or discourage political activity from any person who is doing business with the Agency. This includes any person who has an application for any compensation grant, contract, ruling, license, permit, or certificate pending in your office. It also includes any person who is the subject of an investigation, audit or enforcement action in your office. For PAS employees, this description can include a lot of people!

How are PASers special under the Hatch Act?

Unlike most employees, EPA's fourteen PASers can participate in political activity while on duty, on government premises, in a government vehicle, and while wearing the EPA badge. But only they can do so. The rest of the EPA employees, including Schedule Cs and non-career SESers cannot.

The "Secret Service" exception

In limited cases, the Hatch Act nevertheless allows staff to assist the PAS consistent with their official duty. For example, a security detail may accompany the Administrator, even to a political event, so long as he is providing security and not himself participating in the political activity. Similarly, an administrative assistant may prepare the travel and itinerary associated with a political trip even if the Administrator is engaged in political activity or a mix of official and political activity.

But this exception should not be broadened to include speech writing or any "extra" voluntary service!

What happens if an EPA PAS is invited to a political event?

1) The Scheduling Staff for the PAS should examine the invitation to determine who issued the invitation to the PAS employee and whether it is indeed for a political event.

- Clues: is the invitation from a campaign committee to elect someone? Is the event called a "rally" or a "fundraiser" or does it use words like "get out the vote?"

2) The Scheduling Staff should send a copy of the invitation to OGC-Ethics for review and confirmation as to whether it is indeed a political event.

3) If the event is political, then the Scheduling Staff must do the following:

$ send the requestor the EPA's "ground rules" about political events

$ ask questions about the event:

- who is the host of the event?
- are there any co-sponsors?
- where will the event be held?
- who are the anticipated invitees to the event?
- how many people are expected to attend?
- what is the anticipated role of the EPA PAS at the event?

$ identify a contact person on the Scheduling Staff to work with OGC

$ identify a contact person on the requestor's staff to talk to OGC

$ do not confirm attendance until the event is cleared, in writing (by email), by OGC

NOTE: An employee with Agency-wide responsibility may address a large, diverse group to seek support for a partisan political candidate so long as the group has not been specifically targeted as having matters before the employing office. 5 CFR 734.305.

- An example of a permitted activity: the Administrator may speak on behalf of a partisan candidate at a forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters that is expected to have more than 100 people attend. However, he cannot use his official title and cannot solicit funds for the candidate in his speech. He also should not say that the candidate is endorsed by the US EPA.

- An example of a prohibited activity: the Administrator will not be permitted to speak at an event that is sponsored by an environmental law firm for its clients to be held in the law firm's offices.

- OGC will examine closely where the event is to be held and the sponsors and hosts. Scrutiny will be applied to certain entities, including lobbying organizations, law firms, for-profit and not-for-profit entities that have an environmental focus, and trade associations.

4) If the event is cleared, then the Scheduling Staff can confirm attendance, subject to the EPA's ground rules. The Scheduling Staff should now:

$ obtain a list of all of the invitees and send that list to OGC
$ obtain copies of all of the invitations and send to OGC for review of the format
$ talk to the PAS travel coordinator and OGC about payment for any political travel
$ reaffirm to the PAS that s/he cannot accept any volunteer services, including speeches
$ provide the PAS with the EPA's ground rules as part of her/his briefing package

UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY
WASHINGTON D.C., 20460

GROUND RULES FOR PARTICIPATION IN A POLITICAL EVENT

Your campaign has invited a Presidentially-Appointed and Senate-confirmed appointee of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to speak at your political event. The Hatch Act, 5 U.S.C. §§ 7321-7326, sets forth certain restrictions that this employee must follow. She cannot use her official authority to further political activity; cannot solicit, accept or receive political contributions; and cannot solicit or discourage the political participation of anyone who has business pending before the Agency.

We ask that you review our ground rules carefully and ensure that they are followed. Failure to follow these rules may result in withdrawal of any approval to allow our employee to speak at your event.

- You must provide EPA with a copy of the invitation and any other public communications regarding the event before you may distribute them so that our counsel can ensure compliance with federal rules.

- Once EPA agrees to the final version of the invitation or other public communications, you cannot make any subsequent changes to the text or format nor change the title of the electronic files.

- You must provide EPA with a complete description of the event, the proposed venue, any sponsors or affiliated entities, and a summary description of proposed invitees.

- You may not specifically target invitees with interests before the Agency. If EPA agrees to provide a speaker, you will provide a list of all invitees to EPA and their contact information at least 48 hours in advance of the event.

- When you issue your invitations, you will include this statement as part of the distribution:

  PLEASE NOTE: The federal Hatch Act prohibits this speaker from soliciting or discouraging the political participation of any person who has an application for any compensation grant, contract, ruling, license, permit, or certificate pending before US EPA. If you or your company has any business pending before any part of EPA, we ask that you not attend this event.

Any questions regarding these rules should be directed to Justina Fugh, Senior Counsel for Ethics, at fugh.justina@epa.gov or 202 564 1786.

Just a heads up that the Administrator will be traveling to OKC on March 23 and will return to DC on Sunday, March 26, from Tulsa.

Please check to see what flight options there are for getting him to OKC by 6:00 p.m. on the 23rd and in DC by 10:00-10:30 p.m. on March 26.

Thanks so much for what you do.

Thank you Justina,

This is very helpful and clear. Just so you know, I have not solicited any gifts, nor has anyone else involved with this project. Our discussions with all parties has been solely on the content of the event.

Once I get the final list of who will be attending the event, I will reach out to you with that information. Also I will loop you into the development of talking points for the event as they come together.

And that's why I copied you on the message! Kristen told me that: "Nancy Beck is going to Korea and Taiwan. Korea is paying for that part of the trip, therefore, I know I have to do an ethics form. OITA is paying for the Taiwan portion since it is sponsored by them. My question is, do I need to do two (2) ethics forms? Thanks in advance."

I of course explained that you don't do an ethics travel form when OITA is paying for the trip.

Kristen,
I don't understand what you are asking me. With regard to the highlighted text, Debby Sisco, who is an excellent ethics official, is merely providing you with advice about what happens when a foreign government offers to pay an employee directly for travel expenses. That is not the question you asked me, nor is it the end of the story.

- Anytime an EPA person is on travel and has been offered travel expenses from any non federal source, then she must ask OGC/Ethics for approval to accept that gift. We have a couple of statutory authorities to apply, one of which is mentioned by Debby.
- But even if OGC/Ethics (not the individual traveler) decides to apply the Foreign Gifts and Decorations Act, then the traveler must still submit an ethics travel form to us. We then provide specific advice to the traveler about the details of her trip, which may permit her to accept expenses directly but only with our permission and only if she reports that information to the State Department through us. Debby knows that already, and nothing in her message implies otherwise.

In the email you sent to me, you said that OITA was directly funding the travel, so I said that an ethics travel form (which is decidedly NOT a "waiver" as Kaitlin Keller stated incorrectly) was not necessary. But if the source of the funding is the government of Korea, then the traveler must still: (a) complete an ethics travel form, and (b) explain clearly how the funding will be paid. In reviewing the form, the local DEO (who might be Debby) will explore the details of how the funding will be provided, as will Jennie Keith in OGC/Ethics who is the final approver.

Wynne, this is the first I have heard of it. Based on Kaitlin's message below, maybe she or somebody in OPPT knows more. For the ethics approval you need to have a clear invitation and offer to pay, indicating how they wish to do it. Keep in mind that under the Foreign Gifts and Decorations Act you can accept personal payment for expenses incurred entirely outside the United States, but that does not include airfare. For that, and any expenses incurred inside the US, they have to reimburse EPA.

Top Democrats Seek Ethics Investigation Into EPA Chief Over Meetings With Former Lobbying Clients

July 27, 2018 (Washington, D.C.) – Rep. Beyer (D-VA) led a group of House Democrats today asking the Acting Director of the Office of Government Ethics (OGE) for a review of recent meetings between Acting EPA Administrator Andrew Wheeler and his former lobbying clients. The inquiry followed reporting by E&E that Wheeler met with at least three clients of Wheeler's former lobbying firm this summer, which may have violated his Trump Administration ethics pledge.

The Representatives wrote:

"Acting Administrator Wheeler served as a registered lobbyist for Faegre Baker Daniels until May 31, 2016, according to disclosure filings. His political appointment to the position of Deputy Administrator of the EPA began on April 20, 2017, and therefore Wheeler should have recused himself from all matters involving his former clients until at least April 20, 2019.

His pledge notwithstanding, Wheeler reportedly met with former clients repeatedly while serving as Deputy Administrator. His public calendar shows meetings with his former client, "Darling Ingredients," on June 26, 2018, the South Coast Air Quality Management District on June 22, 2018, and Archer Daniels Midland Co. (listed on his calendar as "ADM) on May 24, 2018. All of these companies have business interests which would be significantly affected by pending EPA regulations, and all paid Wheeler and his former lobbying firm Faegre Baker Daniels thousands of dollars for lobbying work.

Andrew Wheeler is the Acting Administrator of the EPA because of the departure of Administrator Scott Pruitt, which occurred under a cloud of ethical controversy and scandal that tarnished the reputation of the Agency. That context, Wheeler's past work as a coal lobbyist, and the many conflicts of interest which that work naturally presents to his leadership of the EPA demand that his meetings and communications be carefully scrutinized so that he is held to the highest ethical standard.

For these reasons, we ask that that the Office of Government Ethics investigate the matter of Acting EPA Administrator Wheeler's involvement with past lobbying clients to determine whether his previous meetings may have violated his ethics pledge. We also ask that you clarify which clients, and which regulatory matters affecting them, merit future recusals by the Acting Administrator in order to comply with both the spirit and the letter of ethics rules."

The Representatives also noted a filing with the Senate by Faegre Baker Daniels which says that Andrew Wheeler lobbied on behalf of its client Darling International Inc, one of the companies with whom he later met, during the period ending in May of 2016, which is within the window of his ethics pledge. The filing reports $40,000 paid by Darling to Faegre for lobbying by Wheeler and others in 2016.

The letter was signed by Reps. Beyer, Raja Krishnamoorthi (D-IL), Pramila Jayapal (D-WA), and Jamie Raskin (D-MD). Text follows, and a signed copy is available here.

David J. Apol
Acting Director
Office of Government Ethics
1201 New York Avenue, N.W. Suite 500
Washington, D.C. 20005

Dear Acting Director Apol:

We write regarding reports that Acting Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Administrator Andrew Wheeler may have violated his ethics pledge by meeting with former lobbying clients.[1]

The Trump Administration ethics pledge was established by Executive Order shortly after the President took office, and includes the following section:

> 6. I will not for a period of 2 years from the date of my appointment participate in any particular matter involving specific parties that is directly and substantially related to my former employer or former clients, including regulations and contracts.[2]

Acting Administrator Wheeler served as a registered lobbyist for Faegre Baker Daniels until May 31, 2016, according to disclosure filings.[3] His political appointment to the position of Deputy Administrator of the EPA began on April 20, 2017, and therefore Wheeler should have recused himself from all matters involving his former clients until at least April 20, 2019.

His pledge notwithstanding, Wheeler reportedly met with former clients repeatedly while serving as Deputy Administrator. His public calendar shows meetings with his former client, "Darling Ingredients," on June 26, 2018, the South Coast Air Quality Management District on June 22, 2018, and Archer Daniels Midland Co. (listed on his calendar as "ADM) on May 24, 2018.[4] All of these companies have business interests which would be significantly affected by pending EPA regulations, and all paid Wheeler and his former lobbying firm Faegre Baker Daniels thousands of dollars for lobbying work. Wheeler was even listed as a lead lobbyist for Darling International (now known as Darlington Ingredients) on lobbying filing disclosures as recently as the second quarter of 2016, just over two years prior to his meeting with them as Acting EPA Administrator.[5]

Subject: Florida Chamber--Possible Meeting to Discuss ERBA (formerly NMBA) issues, and Gulf Coastal Plains WMB

Hi Matt:

I was so happy to hear that you are the keynote speaker! I will be in Marco, and was hoping to set-up a meeting with you to discuss the following:

1. Ecological Restoration Business Assoc. (ERBA) comments re: state assumption, our comments on FL's notice, and proposed IRT changes.
2. Gulf Coastal Plains WMB--you worked on this project while at Carlton Fields, and wrote a letter for us. The madness continues, and we are at the point of engaging high level agency staff to address the unfounded and unnecessarily additional, burdensome requirements that USACE Galveston District staff is forcing us into in order to implement additional phases and obtain the advanced credit releases. I can provide a summary for you. We would like to talk with you about the existing MBI, and possibly set-up a meeting or call with you, the Colonel and possibly David Olsen as well. We are in the process of reaching out to David Olsen to also discuss. Peter Parlow, P.E., Principal Engineer of E Sciences who is the PM will likely join us if you can make some brief time to discuss.

Hope things are going well for you, and look forward to seeing you at Marco!

Kind Regards,

Hi Michael,
Thanks for reminding me about your type of appointment (you know that's super important). Since you're not a person who signed the ethics pledge, we don't even have to worry about the lobbying gift ban at all.

I'm assuming (based on our chat) that Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy have some extra tickets from their company that's sponsoring this event. It seems that the invitation to you to join the dinner is not based on your EPA position or title, but rather based on your personal relationship Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy and they have the ability to give the extra ticket to you.

Yes, you may accept the ticket Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy pursuant to 5 CFR 2635.204(b) (personal relationship exception). And, because the donor is Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy you won't have to report the value of the ticket on your next financial disclosure report. Enjoy!

Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy into DC next week for a dinner hosted by the Las Vegas Metro Chamber of Commerce. They invited me along, and I told them I would check with ethics to get clarification first.

The company they work for is the Las Vegas Sands Corporation and is a sponsor of the event. They both work in government affairs and are registered to lobby in Nevada, but not federally. I attached the event's webpage below. Sorry for the late notice on this, but they just asked a little bit ago. The dinner is Monday, July 16th. I'm an AD appointee.

OGC Ethics Team

Greetings from Region III! (Looking forward to your upcoming visit.)

One of our employees, Kelly Shenk, will be taking part in a two day event on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. The event will be a tour of several agricultural sites to see how they are run to protect the Chesapeake Bay. The tour will be run by the Conservation Technology Information Center (CTIC). On the first day, there will be a social hour from 5:30 to 7:00 pm for the participants that will include a talk to set up the tour. The next day the tour itself will take place. The registration fee, $175, covers the cost of the social hour and the tour plus three meals during the tour. Kelly will be part of a panel that will talk about agriculture and the Bay during the second day. CTIC has agreed to waive the $175 fee because Kelly is on the panel and because she helped organize the tour. (It's not clear to me what she meant by this and how involved she was.) Several agriculturally related companies (pesticides, fertilizers and seeds) are subsidizing the tour and John Deere is subsidizing the social hour.

Kelly estimates that the total number of participants will be about 110 from across the country. Participants will be representing farmers, ag industry leaders, universities, USDA, EPA, etc. Among the EPA participant will be EPA HQ senior leadership attending including Anna Wildeman – Deputy AA for Water and Owen (?) Dave Ross' senior science advisor as well as Jim Edward, Acting Director of the Chesapeake Bay Office and our RA. There may also be 5-6 other OWOW staff and several other staff from Region III. Jim Edward and the RA will be paying the registration fee although the RA does not plan to attend the social event. I am not sure about Jim Edward.

Wheeler's private calendar reveals recused client contacts

Corbin Hiar and Kevin Bogardus, E&E News reporters Published: Wednesday, September 12, 2018

Acting EPA Administrator Andrew Wheeler has met with at least two former clients who he promised to avoid directly interacting with, according to his personal calendar and meeting attendees.

The meetings, particularly one that took place at EPA headquarters, violate the spirit of President Trump's ethics pledge, according to good government advocates. That pledge restricts the ability of former lobbyists like Wheeler, who took over EPA's top job in early July, from meeting with their recent previous clients.

But on June 26, while Wheeler was still serving as former chief Scott Pruitt's deputy, he had a meeting at EPA headquarters with biofuels lobbyists and executives, including Emily Skor, the CEO of Growth Energy, the agency and biofuels trade group confirmed yesterday. They met at the agency's central offices in downtown Washington.

The previous month, Wheeler signed a recusal statement in which he acknowledged that he is "prohibited from participating in any particular matter involving specific parties in which my former employer, Faegre Baker Daniels LLP, or any former client to whom I provided legal or consultative services during the past two years is a party or represents a party."

Growth Energy was one of eight former clients — out of nearly two dozen that are publicly known — listed on Wheeler's recusal statement. The acting EPA chief said on his financial disclosure report that he had provided the trade group with "strategic advice and consulting" for more than $5,000 in compensation.

Wheeler's recusal makes exceptions for interactions "of general applicability" during which "participation in the meeting or other event is open to all interested parties."

That means "the meeting should include a multiplicity of parties representing a diversity of viewpoints," the statement says. "Generally speaking, at least four other parties should be present to ensure that a diversity of viewpoints is represented and not the same united perspective."

The meeting with Growth Energy, which included more than a half-dozen members of biofuels coalition Fuels America listed as likely attendees, exceeded that numerical requirement, according to meeting attendees and EPA. But ethics watchdogs are skeptical that the attendees represented the required "diversity of viewpoints."

Fuels America is a nonprofit registered with the IRS as a "social welfare organization." The mission of the corporate-backed entity is "to advance and support renewable fuel policies through advertising, communications, education and advocacy efforts," according to its tax returns.

Meanwhile, the lobbyist who requested the meeting told EPA the executives "would like to discuss the timing/importance of the 2019 renewable volume obligations and their unified support for a strong renewable fuel standard," Wheeler's personal calendar shows. The document was obtained by E&E News via a Freedom of Information Act request (E&E News PM, Sept. 10).

Growth Energy's presence in the meeting was not disclosed in Wheeler's public calendar, which EPA posts online. In that version of his schedule, it was logged as "Stakeholder Meeting: Fuels America Coalition."

Taking meetings like the one with Growth Energy "undermines the very purpose of the ethics pledge," said Craig Holman, a government affairs lobbyist for the good government group Public Citizen.

"What you have described to me is a lobbying meeting, pure and simple," he added. "Wheeler is being lobbied by one of his former clients."

But EPA argued Wheeler's meeting including Growth Energy didn't violate the fine print of his pledge since it included a handful of other corporate executives.

"In Acting Administrator Wheeler's ethics guidance, he is allowed to attend group meetings where his former clients may be in attendance if four or more parties are represented with a diversity of viewpoints, which was the case with this meeting, as every individual in the room had a difference of opinion on the [renewable fuel standard]," an EPA spokesman said. "Administrator Wheeler has followed this guidance and this meeting was no different."

Some of the meeting attendees supported EPA's interpretation of the recusal statement.

"Yes, Emily attended, along with a large number of attendees," Leigh Claffey, a spokeswoman for Growth Energy, said, referring to the group's CEO.

James Carstensen, a lobbyist for DuPont who went instead of the DuPont vice president listed in Wheeler's personal calendar, said "there was a healthy exchange of opinions during the meeting."

When asked whether the meeting had a "diversity of viewpoints," as the recusal statement requires, Carstensen said, "Yeah, I thought that there was. But it was a biofuels coalition."

Kathleen Clark, a lawyer and a law professor at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., who specializes in ethics, disagreed with that assessment. She noted the email requesting the biofuels meeting on Wheeler's personal calendar.

"This email promises 'unified support' for a strong renewable fuel standard. We weren't in the room. You and I don't know what was said. But this email doesn't provide any evidence of a 'diversity of viewpoints,'" Clark said.

Clark doesn't think Wheeler met the ethics standard laid out in his recusal statement

"There is no indication there were a diversity of viewpoints in that meeting," she said. "There was a multiplicity of parties, but there was not a diversity of viewpoints."

Two events with Mark Sutton, the chairman and CEO of International Paper Co. — another company on Wheeler's client recusal list — were less clearly focused on swaying Wheeler. In both cases, he was invited to speak about the Trump administration's priorities to groups that included many corporate executives.

On June 6, Wheeler's personal calendar shows he delivered remarks to the Business Roundtable's Energy & Environment Committee, which is led by Sutton. Other Roundtable members include leaders from DowDuPont Inc., NRG Energy Inc. and Shell Oil Co.

Then on June 28, he spoke at a meeting of the American Forest & Paper Association's board of directors, on which Sutton is the second vice chairman. The association had asked Wheeler to address "public policy priority issues including carbon neutrality of biomass for energy, regulatory reform initiatives and permitting reforms, and clean water issues related to human health water quality criteria," according to his calendar.

EPA and the paper products company previously confirmed that Wheeler and Sutton were both at those events. The agency argued they didn't run afoul of his ethics commitments (Greenwire, July 26).

Holman argued only large events — not small gatherings — involving former clients should be allowed under Trump's ethics pledge.

"The only reasonable exception is a big conference," he said.

Just to clarify, the "social hour" is not just for speakers, and is being sponsored by John Deere. The Conservation Technology Information Center is "hosting" the tour, with the support of numerous sponsors, ag and pharma companies: http://www.ctic.org/ciatours

Hi Phil,
Oh, I'm technically off today and tomorrow, but have to do some work anyway, so it's fun to write back to you. OGE fully intended for that new "speaker's dinner" language to cover the instance of person who is speaking or presenting on day 2 to be able to attend a dinner just for presenters that takes place on day 1. In fact, the inclusion of this language was due, in part, to EPA's whining about this very problem. So the special speakers only meal does not have to take place on the same day as the day of Kelly's speech.

Justina,

I am sure you are busy now and I appreciate all the help you can give me.

1) My thinking was that the definition of "free attendance," which includes meals as you highlighted in your response, might work for Kelly in one of two ways; either as a presenter at an event or as someone attending a WAG. Since she will be presenting at the event, accepting the free attendance would not violate the prohibition against accepting gifts from prohibited outside sources. However, I think the defined exception in 5 C.F.R. § 2635.203(b)(8) to the gift prohibition only works for the day that Kelly is participating as a panel member. I believe that her panel takes place on July 11, the day the participants take a tour of several agricultural facilities and not on July 10, the day of the social hour. I will check with Kelly to make sure she is presenting on July 11.
Her attendance at the social hour may qualify as attending a WAG but I would like to avoid having to go through the determination process.

2) I don't think that 31 U.S.C. § 1353 helps Kelly because I believe she is stationed in Annapolis and, according to the web page for organization that has arranged the whole event, the social hour is in a hotel in Annapolis. I will check on Kelly's duty station.

I will also check with Kelly to see if the $20 gift exception might apply.

I checked with Jim Edward's office and they said his office is paying his registration fee so he can attend.

JENNIE – there may an ethics travel issue for Anna Wildeman, Jim Edward and Owen McDonough. You may want to talk to Louise Kitamura about the OW people.

PHIL -- sorry in advance, but I'm kind of mentally exhausted today. My brain, which is suspect to begin with, is not fully functional.

1) Why doesn't the definition of "free attendance" at 5 CFR 2635.203(g) not work here for that social hour? Is it because it's billed as a "social hour" and not a meal?

> (g)Free attendance includes waiver of all or part of the fee for an event or the provision of food, refreshments, entertainment, instruction or materials furnished to all attendees as an integral part of the event. It does not include travel expenses, lodgings, or entertainment collateral to the event. It does not include meals taken other than in a group setting with all other attendees, unless the employee is a presenter at the event and is invited to a separate meal for participating presenters that is hosted by the sponsor of the event. Where the offer of free attendance has been extended to an accompanying spouse or other guest, the market value of the gift of free attendance includes the market value of free attendance by both the employee and the spouse or other guest.

2) Is the event more than 50 miles from her duty station? If so, can't we use 31 USC 1353? Certainly the people from HQ can use 1353, which is why I'm copying Jennie.

Can you clarify?

OGC Ethics Team

Greetings from Region III! (Looking forward to your upcoming visit.)

One of our employees, Kelly Shenk, will be taking part in a two day event on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. The event will be a tour of several agricultural sites to see how they are run to protect the Chesapeake Bay. The tour will be run by the Conservation Technology Information Center (CTIC). On the first day, there will be a social hour from 5:30 to 7:00 pm for the participants that will include a talk to set up the tour. The next day the tour itself will take place. The registration fee, $175, covers the cost of the social hour and the tour plus three meals during the tour. Kelly will be part of a panel that will talk about agriculture and the Bay during the second day. CTIC has agreed to waive the $175 fee because Kelly is on the panel and because she helped organize the tour. (It's not clear to me what she meant by this and how involved she was.) Several agriculturally related companies (pesticides, fertilizers and seeds) are subsidizing the tour and John Deere is subsidizing the social hour.

Kelly estimates that the total number of participants will be about 110 from across the country. Participants will be representing farmers, ag industry leaders, universities, USDA, EPA, etc. Among the EPA participant will be EPA HQ senior leadership attending including Anna Wildeman – Deputy AA for Water and Owen (?) Jim Edward and the RA will be paying the registration fee although the RA does not plan to attend the social event. I am not sure about Jim Edward.

My thinking is that Kelly can accept the waiver of the cost of the tour because this is free attendance at an event provided by the sponsor of the event to a federal employee who is assigned to present information on behalf of her agency at the event on any day when the employee is presenting. Potentially her free attendance at the social hour might be acceptable as a WAG. I am interested in what your thoughts are about the waiver for the social hour and the tour. I assume we would make the WAG determination here at the Region but I was not sure of this.
