Thanks Jared. This is interesting.

The report indicates it was prepared for Chuck Kent at EPA. I know Chuck and will get a hold of him next month to see what was done with this report and how he thinks SEC rules for environmental liabilities, etc could apply to potential clean up liabilities for mining companies. It would be interesting to see the companies' SEC reports. I've always wanted to cc the SEC on our NEPA comment letters regarding mines and financial assurance - perhaps we should as a small first step.
