I did speak with Nancy and this is a big concern for her. If we were to select an atty 15 (temporary detail) she would really need to have the green light to hire (permanently) someone. She wants to mull this over - which is fine. I'm wondering whether we need to solve this now or solve it after we get the list of interested 15s. On the other hand, if it really looks like a no go for attys and they don't have a legit shot at any of these postitions, then maybe we don't include them from the get go.
