Ben:

Tierra backed off on the language that we discussed earlier in the week. This is the agreement as it stands now. The provisions relating to PVSC are in. There are two provisions that are still under discussion -- the dispute resolution and the financial assurance. There are also probably some typos. The document has not really changed substantially since the version that you saw.

If you have any questions about the document, I'll be here until about 2:30 today. Eric says that he will see you on Monday, so he can answer any questions as well.

Thanks for your support on this.
